

THE DRINKS CABINET

presented by The Craft Drink Co.

Elderflower is surely the most perfect floral taste of England's summer and features in many drinks. This year's harvest should be completed by the end of June, resulting in a burst of elderflower essence from July onwards. Almost all elderflower is hand-picked, typically from hedgerow trees so we celebrate the foraged harvest of this quintessentially English ingredient with a selection of delicious elderflower drinks.

1 Elderflower Liqueur from Bramley & Gage
Made in small batches with hand-picked elderflowers, this classic English country liqueur is so versatile. Enjoy as a long drink when mixed with a dry vermouth, soda water and ice, use in cocktails or mist over Bramley & Gage's own 6 O'Clock Gin.

2 Wild Elder Cider from Hogan's
Wild Elder is one of the 'innovation blends' developed by Hogan's Cider. Delicately sweet hand-foraged elderflower is expertly blended with Hogan's 100% fresh pressed cider. A naturally rural hedgerow aroma is followed by a brilliantly bittersweet English cider taste. Refreshing for hot summer days.

3 Elderflower Infused Gin from Warner Edwards
Only fresh handpicked elderflowers are used here. The petals are separated and added to batches of Warner Edwards' Harrington Dry Gin and the result is a fabulous and subtle infusion which can be drunk neat or a in a delicate G&T.

4 Elderflower Cordial from Nurses Cottage
Few cordials match the intensity of this truly cottage creation. Lucy and Andrew Rowlett of Nurse's Cottage Drinks having been picking wild elderflower on Bredon Hill for nearly 20 years, creating this exceptional cordial which forms the basis of all their pressés. An essential for any drinks cabinet.

5 Bensons Elderflower & Apple Juice
Light and delicious; seasonal British apple juice is gently infused with the fragrant elderflower to create a classically British drink reminiscent of long lazy summer days. It's 100% juice, Red Tractor accredited and made without any artificial colouring, flavourings or preservatives.

3 Elderflower & Rose Pressé from Lovely Drinks
This delicate twist on the English classic combines two great English floral flavours in one drink, resulting in what must be the most quintessential English fizz. Winner of two Gold Stars at the 2016 Great Taste Awards, and Silver in the Taste of the West Food Awards 2015

7 Alederflower from Stroud Brewery
Stroud Brewery is one of the UK's only entirely organic breweries. Alederflower is an English pale ale infused with organic elderflowers and hopped with organic Cascade and Nelson Sauvin hops.
