Stratford Gin

William Shakespeare came from a time known for the creation of new spirits and Stratford Gin is inspired by those Tudors who experimented with local home-grown flavours. Handcrafted in small batches in Stratford upon Avon using authentic Tudor garden botanicals including rose, lemon balm, rosemary and lovage together with the more familiar juniper, coriander and lemon peel, this truly is a modern gin with a twist of history.

Mulberry Gin

Shakespeare Distillery produce their new Mulberry Gin over several months by steeping mulberries in the original Stratford Gin. The result is a deep, rich, fruity gin ideal for sipping or mixing with Prosecco as a 'gin fizz'. Mulberries are very fragile and require careful handling but it's worth it for their delicious flavour (a cross between blackcurrant and blackberry).

Rhubarb Gin

Rhubarb, commonly used to cure ailments in Tudor times, has since become a British favourite. Shakespeare Distillery presses the fruit to extract the Rhubarb juice and blends it with their award-winning Stratford Gin to produce a deliciously sweet and tangy gin. Serve with lime and Ginger Ale, or try with Aromatic Tonic.

Elderflower & Quince Gin

Stratford Dry Gin has been blended with the quintessential British flavours of Elderflower and the noble Quince; no fruit was more highly prized in the Tudor period.

Subtle apple notes from the Quince fuse with the mild sweetness of Elderflower to create a deliciously fruity, full-strength gin.
